Impossible to protect prisoners from one another in Hancock jail

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

No matter what cell in the Hancock County Jail Charles Alan Poole had been put in, he would have been with either a convicted murderer or a murder suspect awaiting trial.

Poole, 24, was killed Saturday night allegedly by cellmate Allen Nicolaou, a convicted murderer.

Nicolaou listened silently Monday while Justice Court Judge Bruce Necaise read the charges and explained that the maximum sentence could be the death penalty.

Nicolaou is charged with capital murder. A state law requires this charge for all persons who kill another while serving a life sentence.

Necaise set a preliminary hearing for Nov. 7 at 1 p.m. for Nicolaou.

"I don't know anything else we could have done," Hancock County Sheriff Roandal Peterson said. "We only have five cells, two downstairs and three upstairs."

"You do the best with what you've got and that's all you can do," he added.

At the time of Poole's death there were 35 prisoners being housed in a facility designed for only 15 prisoners.

"We had three convicted murderers currently being imprisoned here and have two prisoners who are waiting to be tried for murder," Peterson said.

There is just no way with the limited space available that we can segregate the pre-trial prisoners from the convicted criminals, Peterson said.

Poole had been recently bound over to the January term of the grand jury and was jailed under $1,500 bond.

He had been arrested Oct. 10 and charged with assault on a police officer, resisting arrest, hitchhiking and disorderly conduct.

Poole had spent one night in an isolation cell after threatening to kill the jailer and trustees and throwing human waste from his cell.

Poole also reportedly started a fire in the isolation cell before being placed in the cell with Nicolaou.

Peterson said Poole had been put in cells with a larger number of prisoners but there had been problems.

"We felt he would get along better in a two-man cell," Peterson said.

Other prisoners reported that Poole and Nicolaou had been playing sexual bondage games during the day and had been tying one another up with pieces of cloth, socks and shoestrings.

Prisoners who witnessed the slaying said they pleaded with Nicolaou not to strangle Poole.

Poole's body was found at approximately 10 p.m. Saturday night on the bottom bunk in the cell.

Although when the body was discovered, Poole was not tied up, Sheriff Peterson said he firmly believed that the victim was probably tied up at the time of his death.

An autopsy report by Dr. J. D. Rutherford stated that Poole had died of suffocation, according to Peterson.

Poole had also been severely beaten in the facial area.

Following Nicolaou's appearance before Judge Necaise, he conferred briefly with his attorney William Fribble before being transferred to the Harrison County Jail.

Harrison County Sheriff Larkin Smith said Wednesday that as far as he knew there had been no problems with Nicolaou since his incarceration in the Harrison County Jail.

Smith added that Nicolaou was being held in an isolation cell behind a double set of doors.

"He's being a good boy," Smith added.

Nicolaou pled guilty last week to two charges of murder, two charges of kidnapping and one charge of armed robbery.

He admitted to the January shooting deaths of Waveland resident Gerald Comisky and Keith McMillian of New Orleans, the kidnapping of two teenaged girls in Kiln and the armed robbery of the Old Rooster Cafe.

Guilty pleas to those charges netted Nicolaou two life sentences, two sentences of 30 years and one 40-year stretch.

With these sentences alone, Nicolaou will have to serve more than 37 years before he will be eligible for parole.

If convicted of Poole's murder, the minimum sentence Nicolaou will face is another mandatory life sentence.

MONDAY'S HERO—Leslie J. Theard, right, 77, Monday rescued his partially paralyzed wife Lorraine, 65, seated, from their burning residence on Dogwood Road in Pearlington. Theard was in his yard some distance from the house when he heard his wife screaming following an explosion which resulted from a butane gas leak. Assisting the couple after the incident is Mrs. Theard's son Donald Alley, left, of Lakeshore. Theard credited Hancock Deputy Ronald Cuevas and neighbor June Sallee with assisting in saving the house from more serious damage. West Hancock Volunteer Fire Department Firefighter Ricky Boyet said the fact Theard maintains a charged fire extinguisher in the house is the main reason the blaze was confined to causing relatively minor damages. ## Diamondhead offers Southern hospitality to British couple sailing around the world

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

To many people, living the life of Peter and Shirley Billings is an impossible dream.

The Billings recently sold their home near Winsdor, England and are in the process of sailing around the world.

But since June, the Billingses have been docked at the Diamondhead Marina.

Basically, Ms. Billings said, we decided to dock at this time to hide from the hurricanes.

They heard about the marina through a colleague of their son Paul, who lives in La Place, La.

"We really have been pleased since coming here and have experienced first hand the fantastic Southern hospitality," she added.

During the time the Billingses have been docked here in Hancock County, they have taken time off the boat to tour several states.

"We traveled 8,000 miles by boat to get here and 7,500 miles by car since arriving in America," Billings said.

That tour included stops in Florida, Virginia, Wisconsin, Utah, New Mexico and Texas. They also visited Dinosaur City, the Grand Canyon and Carlsbad Caverns.

The Billingses said because of the different places that they traveled, one day they would be camping in the snow and the next day in the desert.

"One day we would watch out for bears and the next day for rattlesnakes," he said.

Most of their stops, Ms. Billings said, were made in cities where they visited with business colleagues.

Prior to beginning to live their dream, Billings was a director of an English branch of an American company that handled electronics.

Ms. Billings was a secretary for the Institute of Directors and taught several "Keep Fit" or aerobics classes.

"We both had been working too hard and so we decided it was time to begin enjoying the benefits of our labors," he said.

He said that after their children all had left home, they decided to buy a boat and sail around the world rather than buy a smaller house and keep on working.

"So we sold everything we had, bought a boat, put the rest in the bank and are living on the interest," she said.

"Naturally the rate of currency exchange is a matter of daily concern for us," Billings added.

They had been sailing for nearly 20 years, but basically only for two weeks at a time, Ms. Billings said.

"We encourage others to try escaping—to travel in a camper must be just as nice," she added.

"It is a nice way to escape the clutches of the taxman, or what you call the IRS," Billings said.

In preparation for their journey, which the Billingses estimate will take more than five years, both took several first aid courses.

The Billingses say they have faced the possibility of a fatal accident and discussed what to do should something like this happen.

Billings said they realize that if they are very far from shore, the only feasible thing is a burial at sea.

He jokingly added that should this be necessary it may be hard to convince the authorities that it was an accident and that he hadn't got mad at his wife and just tossed her overboard.

"We are actually more frightened of pirates than nature," Ms. Billings said, adding, "Man is more of a problem than nature."

Since they left England 18 months ago, their boat was burglarized once when they were ashore, they were robbed once and experienced another attempted robbery.

The attempted robbery was halted by Billings who frightened off a native who had swum out to the boat and climbed up the anchor line.

"It was really quite silly but I told him if he didn't leave I would call the police, sitting there on the boat with no telephone nearby," he said.

When the Billingses left London last March they began a southerly journey along the coast of France, Portugal and Spain.

Women petition for return to jobs at Waveland shop

By DENA BISNETTE

Seven former employees of Cato, a women's clothing store in Waveland, are circulating a petition asking that they be reinstated in their jobs.

The petitioners include former manager Shirley Johnson, allegedly fired Oct. 11; Judy Faysard, allegedly fired Oct. 13; and Marilyn Rauxet and Debbie Spiers, who said they were laid off Oct. 16 after being in the position of janitorial workers.

The saleswomen include Judy Bergeron, who walked out with Wright; June Bordelon, who reports being fired Oct. 12; and Marilyn Rauxet and Debbie Spiers, who said they were laid off Oct. 16.

Five of the seven say they were given no reason for being fired or laid off or are unsatisfied with the reason given, while Wright and Bergeron say they should never have been asked to perform janitorial duties because they were hired as sales personnel.

Four arrested for burglaries

By DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Sheriff's Department has arrested four people and recovered about $5,000 in property in connection with a string of house burglaries.

Investigator Delbert Seay reported that deputies Glenn Strong and Eddie Jennings arrested two juveniles and two adults Monday.

The adults were Nelson Chasteen, 19, and Andrew Genna, 20, both of Bay St. Louis. Chasteen has been charged with four counts of burglary of a dwelling. Genna has been charged with two counts. Both have been set at $10,000 each.

The juveniles have been turned over to youth court authorities. All four were arrested after an investigation.

Seay said the four burglars stole residence in the Old Nichols area.

He said $5,000 to $6,000 in stolen property, including jewelry, television sets, stereo equipment and other items have been recovered. Some items are still missing, Seay said.

In other action Tuesday, the sheriff's department confiscated marijuana plants and a small amount of white powder from residents in Vernon, according to investigator Alvin Ladner.

Ladner said the plants were found in a residence in the Old Nichols area.

Clergymen support jail bond proposal

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The need for a new Hancock County jail received support this week from 18 area clergymen, the Garden Island Community Association, the ministers of the Hancock County Emergency Relief, and Merrymakers Pleasure and Social Club.

This adds to a growing list of organizations, and individuals seeking voter approval for a $2.5 million bond issue to replace the outdated Hancock County jail. The proposition is to appear on the Nov. 6 General Election Ballot.

"Our board of directors and members feel it is vitally necessary to replace the outmoded Hancock County jail with a new facility," said Donald Simoneaux, Garden Island association president.

Ina R. Pizza, Hancock County Emergency Relief Fund secretary-treasurer, stated, "We wish to go on record endorsing the new jail issue that will be put up to the voters on Nov. 6. We feel that this is a moral issue."

"Respect for the human person demands that prisoners be held in conditions that respond adequately to their human dignity. Our present facilities in Hancock County are woefully lacking. Likewise, any hope of rehabilitation must build on this respect for the offender as a human person. Dehumanizing jail conditions make this rehabilitation impossible or clearly less likely," Rev. Francis A. Theriault, SVD, and Rev. Bede Smith, SVD, of St. Augustine's Seminary, said in a joint statement.

Curtis Moffat, pastor of Main Street United Methodist and Waveland Methodist Churches stated, "The current situation is of such a moral degradation that it pricks the soul of any Christian community."

"Our common Christian concern is for peace, justice and order. It is a concern to protect the general public, and to deal with those in jail humanly and efficiently. If we accept this ethic of protection and humanity, then we also accept the obligation to provide it in a tangible way," Rev. Mark A. Jumper, pastor of Diamondhead Community Church said.

Rev. Alton J. Lynch, pastor of Annunciation Parish, Kiln, said, "I would like to endorse the Jail Bond Issue. My own commitment to respect human life prompts such an endorsement."

Other ministerial endorsements were offered by the following clergymen: Rev. Francis Farrell, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church; Rev. Robert L. Mooney, pastor of Central Baptist Church; Rev. Charles Johnson, retired pastor of Christ Episcopal Church; Rev. Ernest Culley, pastor of Word of Faith Christian Fellowship; Rev. William C. Farris, pastor of Shiford Memorial Baptist Church; Rev. Francis X. Toner, ST, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church; Rev. Nathan Barber, pastor of First Baptist Church; and Rev. Jim Pawlicki, SVD; Rev. Walt Bracken, SVD; Rev. John Stoessel, SVD; Rev. Anthony Bourges, SVD; Rev. Borgia Aubespain, SVD; Rev. Dennis Newton, SVD; all of St. Augustine's Seminary.

Quotables by Cuevas 99

During the past several days and through today members of the Hancock County Historical Society have been registering the names of persons with unmarked graves in the Cedar Rest Cemetery in Bay St. Louis.

The group has placed signs on several graves where there is doubt about who is buried.

Relatives and friends of loved ones buried without identifications on grave sites are requested to contact the society by writing Historical Society, P.O. Box 1340, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520.

We feel this is important information needed and will be of help in future years to come.

Members of the society have spent a solid year recording names and have documented over 1,600 out of a possible 2,500 spaces. So, many names are still missing.

We have a feeling county workers on Monday did a good job picking litter from county roads and made an improvement in their appearance.

On the other hand some failed to realize they were not doing a favor for the highway department, as they littered themselves on the way to the dump.

A large truck with a green dump body with Hancock County written across the back entered Hwy. 603 in front of us from the Waveland-Kilm Cut-off. We were behind the truck until the Interstate and apparently some of the plastic bags were torn, as every 100 or so feet a piece of debris would fly out of the truck.

This could be one of the many reasons there is so much litter on Hwy. 603, a cover of some type could eliminate this from happening.

We realize litter is a serious problem and Hancock County spends quite a sum each year in trying to reduce the amount on our county roads.

Area high school football is coming fast to a close for this season with most schools having only two more games.

Friday night Bay High's Tigers will play host to Hancock North Central's Hawks in what should be a very interesting game.

Coach Cleveland Williams' Tigers and Coach Irvin Favre's Hawks both started the season suffering from injuries.

As the season progressed and some of the injured players were able to perform, both squads tremendously improved their team play.

The Hawks and Tigers are probably at their peak in performances, so spectators from both schools should see a fantastic game.

The game should be a toss up, we are picking the Tigers because they are the host team, but the game could go either way.

We know there are some folks who wish we would pick the Tigers to lose every week, because every time we pick them they say we cause them to lose.

St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will journey to Pass Christian and try deflating the sails of the high flying Pirates.

Pass Christian has improved with every game this season and the Rocks will have to play their best game of the season to bring a victory home.

St. Stanislaus started the season in winning form and faltered mid-way, yet the victory last week may be the spark they need for the game against Pass Christian.

This like the game in Bay St. Louis should be a good one for spectators.

Coast Episcopal's Red Raiders are finished their regular season in eight man football competition and have accepted an invitation to play in the Ocean Springs Kiwanis second annual Independence Bowl on Saturday.

The Raiders finished their regular season with an impressive 6-2 record in the high scoring type of football.

The game is scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Greyhound Stadium in Ocean Springs.

Special Senate Study Committee on Health Care has drafted a bill providing for a major reorganization of the state health care agencies.

The bill resulted from numerous committee and sub-committee meetings and public hearings since June.

The proposed legislation consolidates several agencies and puts currently autonomous agencies under the jurisdiction of another agency.

The proposal creates a Mississippi Department of Health Care Finance which would include the Division of Medicaid, the Division of Hospital Reimbursement, the Division of Indigent Care Reimbursement and the Division of Licensure and Certification.

This abolishes the present Hospital Reimbursement Commission, the State Hospital Commission and the Mississippi Health Care Commission which is subject to automatic repealer July 1, 1985.

The licensure function of the Health Care Commission is transferred to the Department of Health Care Finance while the certificate of need function will come under the State Board of Health in the form of a Division of Health Planning and Certification of Need.

Health care facility certificates of need will be issued by the Executive Officer of the State Board of Health. Present laws regarding the substantive rights of persons applying for a certificate of need are not changed.

Also abolished is the Board of Trustees of the State Eleemosynary

Institutions with a Division of Eleemosynary Institutions created under the jurisdiction of the State Department of Health.

The State Department of Health will also take on a Division of Professional Licensure and provide fiscal and administrative support to the Board of Medical Licensure, Board of Dental Examiners, Board of Pharmacy, Board of Nursing, Board of Chiropractic Examiners, Board of Optometry, Board of Nursing Home Administrators, Physical Therapy Board, Board of Veterinary Medicine and Board of Psychological Examiners.

The 15 Regional Mental Health/Retardation Centers would come under the jurisdiction and administration of the State Department of Mental Health. Each Regional Mental Health/Retardation Commission would become a Regional Planning Council whose function is to prepare individual budgets and plans for their respective center.

All professional and administrative personnel in the various centers would become state employees and all local budgets would be subject to the approval of the State Board of Mental Health.

The bill also provides that the Mississippi Children's Rehabilitation Center would come under the jurisdiction of the University Hospital which is the responsibility of the State College Board.

"During our study over the past few months we have seen a need for consolidation of agencies to eliminate duplication of efforts and competition for funds. There will be no loss of jobs, but hopefully with the reorganization we will be able to provide more services," said Senator George Smith of Gulfport, committee chairman.

The committee is seeking feedback on the provisions of the bill and will hold a hearing beginning at 10 a.m. on Nov. 1. Anyone wishing to appear on the agenda should call Mrs. Joyce Johnson at 359-3224.

News From The Governor's Office

Gov. Bill Allain

As I travel the State of Mississippi, I never cease to be amazed at the unselfish spirit of our citizens.

I recently returned from a trip to Oxford where I toured the North Mississippi Retardation Center. The federal government is demanding a minimum of $2 million back from the State of Mississippi, with a major portion coming from the budget of the Center in Oxford. Several of my staff members and I went up there to see how the funds are being used and to tour the center.

During the tour of the North Mississippi Retardation Center, I not only learned that these funds were being put to good use, but I also met several more examples of truly caring Mississippians.

A Foster Grandparents Program operates at the Center. These senior citizens take their time to help with the care of young children and adults who cannot care for themselves, who require help with the most basic of needs like eating. I witnessed the look of love in the faces of these volunteers as they quietly worked to help another person.

Two of these Foster Grandparents are especially remarkable because they are among the senior-most of our citizens. Annie Cook, age 98, and Fred Farmer, age 88, were at work during our visit, feeding and cleaning the patients in the center. Most of the patients they care for will never know them, and certainly can never return the loving service they provide.

My staff and I were very moved to see these senior citizens sharing their enthusiasm for life with others who are more disadvantaged than them. This kind of love has no age limit; this kind of unselfishness will never retire.

We tried to express our gratitude and that of the people of Mississippi to each of the volunteer Foster Grandparents who were working at the Center that day. But it reminded me that we have these kinds of volunteers across the State of Mississippi. Especially in our state-owned, and often underfunded, facilities, so many Mississippians spend hundreds of hours a week, thousands of hours a year, giving up their free time to help others who don't even know what free time means.

So seldom do we take time to thank people who are there every day, whether or not they have to be. They're there because they know they should be. No state budget can buy that type of dedication, loyalty, unselfishness and love.

As we approach the Thanksgiving season, let's try to look around and spot these people. Make an effort to thank them; let them know they are appreciated.

Old Dossett Road bridge condition continues to deteriorate

To the Editor:

The Old Dossett bridge over Bayou Bacon in Beat Two has been unsafe and rotting for the last two years. I know it well being a property owner along Dossett Road.

The picture and article on the front page of The Sea Coast Echo, Sept. 13 issue, describes it correctly. Each day it deteriorates further.

This area is near the Hancock North Central School. Dossett Road, being a shortcut, is used by many who live or work in this farming community besides the property owners along it.

It is a link between Cuevas Town Road and Dummy Line Road. Many residents of this Catahoula Community are afraid to go over the bridge.

Some continue to take a chance. Most users have heavy vehicles, trucks, tractors, etc. They would like to cross over with.

Several years ago the road was paved half way. This was badly needed. However, with a rotting bridge still to go over, it was not a good situation.

Supervisor Sam Pernicaro at the time said the remainder of the road would be paved shortly as soon as a new bridge would be built.

Since then residents have been hopeful and patient, expecting a new bridge soon.

According to the Sept. 13 article in The Sea Coast Echo the present supervisor, A.A. "Dolph" Kellar, says plans for building the new bridge have been sent to the program office in Jackson for a State Aid Road Project. That is good news!!

But how many years does it take now to correct this dangerous situation? How much longer are the residents and taxpayers of this area denied safe use of this road?

Who knows when there will be a serious accident?

It is good to know the supervisor and county engineer are taking all the action they can to speed up work on a new bridge.

Mrs. F. G. Moore
Pass Christian

Thanks to you...

it works...

Waveland zoning request draws controversy Monday

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Waveland Planning and Zoning Board decided Monday to take a controversial zoning request under advisement.

The request involves two lots on Faith Street owned by Mike Pernicaro and was heard by the board for the second time Monday.

The request was originally heard Sept. 29, but a second public hearing was required because the boundaries described in the original legal advertisement were incorrect, according to zoning board attorney Lucien Gex.

The original advertisement listed the three lots in question as being in Gulfview subdivision, but they are actually in Golfview subdivision.

Pernicaro wants the lots to be zoned C-3, a commercial zoning, consistent with an adjoining lot he owns that is zoned C-3 under a grandfather clause.

He said at the Sept. 29 hearing that he plans to establish business on the property, which is presently zoned R-1, a residential zoning.

Pernicaro's wife represented him at the second hearing Monday and contended that the two lots not covered by the grandfather clause had been rezoned commercial in September 1982 while they were still owned by Jimmy Pernicaro.

According to Waveland Zoning Official Arcelyn Dastague, the city zoning map still shows the property as being part of a residentially zoned area.

Zoning board records indicate that the members of the board voted to recommend that the board of aldermen grant the change in September 1982, but no record of final approval by the aldermen has been found.

Dastague said the zoning board minutes for September 1982 are missing from the records of the board of aldermen. Without those records, she said, there is no way of knowing whether the change was ever granted.

Luke Caruso, who opposes the zoning change, said Monday that he has sent the zoning board copies of petitions signed by people who own land in the same block as Pernicaro as well as one landowner from an adjoining block.

Caruso said they want the property to remain residential to halt the spread of businesses into the neighborhood.

Also speaking in opposition to the rezoning were attorney Walter Gex, who represented Caruso; and Ellis Cuevas, who owns residentially zoned property behind Pernicaro's lots.

In other business, the board heard a request from Ray McMyre, who wants to subdivide a block of property

Slidell man arrested for 45-cent robbery

BY DENA BISNETTE

A Slidell man has been arrested on charges of armed robbery and aggravated assault after reportedly stealing a wallet that contained less than 50 cents.

Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Alvin Ladner said Charles Thompson, Slidell, was arrested Monday morning in St. Tammany Parish, La., and is in the St. Tammany Jail awaiting extradition to Hancock County.

Ladner said the charges were brought against Thompson in Hancock County because the alleged robbery and assault occurred in Logtown.

Ladner said the suspect reportedly picked up his alleged victim in Slidell and drove him to Logtown, where he allegedly attempted to cut the man's throat with a butcher knife and stole his wallet.

The victim told authorities that the wallet contained 45 cents, but Ladner said a witness told him it contained only 40 cents.

The victim escaped with lacerations on his throat and hands, made his way back to Slidell and called authorities, the investigator said.

An acrobat is any person who can stand on principles without losing his balance.

Hospital employees honored

Richard Flowers has been presented the 1984 Dr. Thomas F. Frist Humanitarian Award and Mary Brown was named as employee of the month at the Hancock General Hospital.

Flowers, chief laboratory technician, has been with the hospital for the past three years.

RICHARD FLOWERS

During that time the laboratory has been awarded four 100 percent ratings by the College of American Pathologists.

"Flowers has shown himself to be very concerned about the welfare of the patients at Hancock General," said Phillip Langston, hospital administrator, "and he was nominated by employees here at the hospital."

"We are proud to present this award to Flowers for his hard work, dedication and for striving to make sure Hancock General provides the people of the area with the best in-patient and health care," Langston added.

Flowers has a total of 15 years experience in military and civilian laboratories and received his master's degree in microbiology from the University of Mississippi.

The award was established in 1972 as a tribute to Dr. Thomas F. Frist, a founder and the first president of Hospital Corporation of America.

The award is presented annually to an employee at each HCA-affiliated hospital who has made a significant contribution to the improvement of patient care, demonstrated unusual concern for the welfare and happiness of patients and who has performed ex-

MARY BROWN

Brown, a registered nurse, was also chosen from among nominations made by employees of the hospital.

"These nominations were based on Brown's positive attitude toward her work, fellow employees, patients and visitors; her dependable, consistent and outstanding day-to-day performance; and her effort to improve, through her performance, the quality of care provided at Hancock General," Langston said.

She is a floor supervisor at the hospital and has been there for more than two years. Previously she worked as a public health nurse for the Harrison County Health Department.

She has a bachelor of science degree in nursing and a bachelor of arts degree in social work in the field of nursing from the University of Mississippi.

Other factors involved in Brown's selection involved the concern she demonstrates for the welfare and happiness of patients and the acts of kindness she continually shows forth, Langston said.

ASCS NEWS

ADVANCE PAYMENTS

To provide farmers with additional cash flow, Franklin A. Gennin, county executive director of the Pearl River-Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office (ASCS) said advance payments are being offered during the signup for the 1985 Wheat, Feed Grain, Upland Cotton and Rice Acreage Reduction Programs.

Advance payments represent 50 percent of the projected deficiency payments and 50 percent of the land diversion payments in those programs where land diversion payments are provided.

Deficiency payments are made to farm program participants when the average market price falls below the established target price for a crop. Gennin said target prices for 1985 are $3.03 per bushel for corn, $2.88 for sorghum, $2.60 for barley, $1.60 for oats, and $4.38 per bushel for wheat.

The target price is 81 cents, a pound for upland cotton and $11.90 per hundredweight for rice.

He said the projected deficiency payment rates per bushel are 47 cents for corn, 46 cents for sorghum, 44 cents for barley, and $1.08 for wheat.

Projected deficiency payment rates are 19.80 cents per pound for upland cotton and $3.80 per hundredweight for rice.

"The advance deficiency payments equal one-half the projected deficiency payment rate, times the farm program yield, times the indicated acreage to be planted, not to exceed the permitted acreage of the crop."

In addition to deficiency payments, farmers who sign up for the 1985 wheat, upland cotton and rice programs will be eligible for land diversion payments.

Payment rates are $2.70 a bushel for wheat, $3.30 per pound for upland cotton and $3.50 per hundredweight for rice.

Half of the diversion payments will be available at signup. "These payments compensate farmers for taking land out of production in addition to the acreage reduction requirement," said Gennin.

A farmer who accepts an advance payment, but who later does not comply with program provisions, must refund the amount of the advance payment with interest plus liquidated damages, the ASCS official said.

For 1985 feed grains and extra long staple cotton, a 10 percent acreage reduction program is in effect. For wheat and upland cotton, the total reduction is 30 percent, including a 10 percent paid land diversion requirement.

For 1985 rice program participants, the total reduction is 35 percent, including a 15 percent paid land diversion.

Applications for the 1985 programs may be filed from Oct. 15 through March 1.

Consumer group advises comparative shopping for telephone purchases

By Jan Kelly
Area Consumer Management Specialist

According to the Consumer Electronics Group in Washington, D.C. consumers can save $20 to $60 a year they are paying in rental charges for telephones.

Consumer Electronics suggests you check with the phone company to find out what you are paying for your phone, then compare that figure with the cost of buying a phone, which ranges from about $9 to hundreds of dollars depending on features.

It is legal to own your phone, but the FCC requires you to report the manufacturer's name, model number and the two numbers printed on a label on the bottom or back of your phone.

These two numbers are the ringer equivalence number and the FCC registration number.

The ringer equivalence number indicates how much ringing current your phone requires. If you install too many phones on the same line, you may not hear them ring. The FCC registration number certifies that the phone won't damage the telephone network.

If your purchased phone does not have a registration number, it may be on the "grandfathered" list, which means it was in use before July 1, 1979, when the FCC requirement started.

If your phone doesn't have a number and it is not on the "grandfathered" list, you will have to have it rebuilt to meet FCC standards before you install it.

There are many kinds of phones available—standard or basic phones, electronic, desk, wall, decorator and designer.

Basic telephones are a good choice for your first buy. Check for sturdy construction.

There are two types of phones, tone or touch tone and pulse phones. Older pulse phones are the ones you operate by rotating a dial with your finger, but newer pulse models use pushbuttons.

Some of the extra features now available include "mute," which lets you talk with someone in the same room without being overheard by a person on the phone; "hold," which allows you to leave the phone and not be overheard; "melody on hold," which entertains the caller with music; "ringer selector," which lets you adjust the volume of ring; "intercom," which lets you talk on other extensions in the house; and "readout," which shows the number you have dialed and how long you have been talking.

NELL BRELAND KOENENN

CANDIDATE

HANCOCK COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD - DISTRICT 5

It will be my pleasure and privilege to serve as your representative.

I, Nell Koenenn, am qualified to effectively and honestly serve in this vital position. "Vital position" because the members of the school board directly effect the future of our children and grandchildren.

I am a lifelong resident of Hancock County and have been involved with the operations and problems of the county school system throughout my entire life.

Both my father and mother (Mr. & Mrs. Ed Breland) spent their lives teaching school in Hancock County, with my father being honored for serving as Superintendent of the Hancock County School System.

As Ed Breland's daughter, I was involved with assisting him, learning many of the workings of a school board member.

I am the mother of three children, all of whom received 12 successful years of schooling in Hancock County.

As an interested and concerned mother, I took part in all school activities, giving me considerable exposure to the system.

In this day of progress and growth of Hancock County, one can foresee many problems in changes of the future in our educational system.

I am qualified and prepared to face not only these new problems, but also to correct mistakes in the system of the past.

This is a countywide election, and I sincerely solicit the help and support of all qualified voters.

I promise you a full term of devoted, unselfish service for the betterment of the children and the school system of Hancock County.

PLEASE VOTE FOR ME, NELL KOENENN, ON NOVEMBER 6TH.

THANK YOU VERY MUCH
NELL KOENENN

IMPROPTU PAYMASTER—Waveland Police Officer D.K. Watson issues paychecks to former Cato employees, from left, Ann Wright, Marilyn Rauxet, Judy Bergeron, Judy Fayard and June Bordelon in the Choctaw Plaza parking lot near the store where he had been called by store managers to investigate activities of the former employees who are circulating a petition urging the corporation to restore them to their jobs.

The seven report no notices of dismissal were received with their final checks specifying why they had been fired.

Five of the women said they received their final paychecks from Waveland Police Officer D.K. Watson.

Watson was called to the store Oct. 20 when Bergeron, Bordelon, Rauxet, Wright and Fayard were collecting signatures in the parking lot.

His report stated that the women were "not creating a disturbance but were peacefully picketing Cato's by standing in the parking lot approximately 30 feet from the store."

Darlene Browder, a former head cashier who is now store manager, said she asked Watson to distribute the checks because she "had been" manager only since (the previous) Thursday and didn't want to get involved."

Bergeron alleged that Browder told Watson she "feared for her safety and the safety of her employees."

"We made no attempt to enter the store," said Rauxet. "We had been in there earlier to pay on a layaway. In fact, they opened the door for us. The only things that were said were normal, everyday conversation with the girl at the register and everybody was real nice."

According to Bergeron, Browder had been recently hired and had stated several times that she was at the store "to report everything to Vonell Hollifield." Hollifield is district manager.

Hollifield said Oct. 25 that she is currently working out of the Picayune store and had not been to the Waveland store since the previous Tuesday. She said the store appeared to be operating as usual while she was there.

"I wasn't aware that we had a problem over there, and for that reason I'd prefer not to make further comment," she said.

Cato owner Waylon Cato could not be reached by telephone at the company's home office in Charlotte, N.C., in spite of repeated attempts over a five-day period.

A secretary in his office said each time that he was out of the office or in a meeting and he did not return calls although several messages were left.

Bergeron, who is serving as spokesman for the group of former employees, said she has contacted Cato by registered letter but has received no answer yet.

"We just want him to know what's going on down here. We're going to continue collecting signatures on our petitions until we get some sort of answer," Bergeron added.

The petition states only that the women circulating it were employees of the Waveland Cato store and asks that they be rehired. The women currently have more than 400 signatures on the petition.

Bergeron and the other seven women say Hollifield and Browder started reorganizing the store shortly before the firings occurred.

They allege that the two changed rules, gave inconsistent orders, refused to permit them to continue calling each other by first names and changed schedules without consulting them.

Tedford passes state bar exam

Tedford was one of 58 applicants who took the July 1984 bar examination, 38 of whom passed and were certified to practice law.

Hospitality . . . . . CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1A

They spent summer of 1983 in the Mediterranean, visited the Canary Islands and along the west coast of Africa.

Their Atlantic crossing was delayed for two weeks because of trade winds.

Crossing the Atlantic to Antigua took the Billingses 30 days and they were at sea on Christmas Day.

Billings said they had planned to be in Antigua for Christmas but with the delayed start and after being becalmed for days at sea, they were still on the water for the holiday.

"It was really quite frustrating to hear the radio announcer say 'hurry up and finish your Christmas shopping' when we were 500 miles from the nearest shopping center," he noted.

"We had our decorations and even a tiny little Christmas tree," she said, "and we listened to Christmas services on the radio."

Leaving Antigua they sailed down to the Caribbean Islands and to Grenada.

"We were there after the revolution and the natives were all very happy with the Americans and didn't want them to leave," Ms. Billings said.

Next they sailed along the Venezuelan coast to Caracas and the island of Margarita.

"We visited several unspoiled islands along there where we were regarded as visitors and not tourists," she said, "this meant they didn't try to rip us off."

The Billingses crossed the Caribbean Sea to Jamaica and Montego Bay.

"Montego Bay was the only place where the rats and the cockroaches walked hand in hand down the street," Billings added.

They also visited the Cayman Islands before sailing due north to Gulfport and over to Diamondhead Marina.

During November the Billingses will fly to England to visit family.

"We want to sneak a quick look at the family and to greet our first grandchild," Ms. Billings said.

They plan to spend this Christmas with her parents in Australia before coming back to Hancock County.

In January they plan to set off for the Panama Canal on another section of their journey.

The Billingses, who have been married for 30 years, say they are remarkably happy with what they are doing.

"It takes real teamwork but the ship is self-steering," Billings explained.

He added that they keep a 24-hour watch in three-hour shifts while sailing.

"We have to watch for the large ships that do not look out for small boats in their paths," he said.

The Billings' boat is an Endurance 35-foot, two-mast ketch built of ferron cement.

"The ketch has a 50 horsepower engine but we only carry 100 gallons of fuel," Billings said, "so if the wind stops, we stop."

It has a kitchen-dining-living area as well as two small bedrooms, one equipped with a double bed.

She said the largest bedroom is mainly hers and she spends much of her spare time there reading, listening to cassettes or working on Christmas gifts for family and friends.

The other bedroom is used mainly for storage and Ms. Billings has racks placed in there where she hangs fresh vegetables.

Ms. Billings said for their journey she managed to find some mats that will hold their plates in place when the waters are rough but the gravy still slides off.

In addition to keeping a journal or log of their trip, the Billings are working on children's books about their travels.

"Sailing like this is something we've always thought about and talked about doing," she said.

"We're glad now that finally we can do it."

Wildcats seeking victory to insure winning season

It was a must win situation, but it didn't phase the Pearl River College Wildcats as they whipped the Southwest Junior College Bears 23-2 with big plays and stout defense.

It was a good night for Wildcat faithfuls as they saw their team keep their hopes alive in a quest for a winning season.

Thursday night the Wildcats will travel to Scooba to take on North Division leader East Mississippi. A win would keep the 'Cats from posting their first back to back losing seasons since the 1944, 1945 campaigns.

"We have a chance now to play the number one team in the north to see if we can have a winning season," said J.C. Arban, Wildcat head coach.

The Wildcats played tough defense the entire night keeping the Bears out of the end zone. Only a high snap or a punt kept them from posting a shutout.

"I didn't think they could score on us," said Arban. "The last eight minutes we played everyone we had and they still didn't score."

Offensively it was quarterback Chip Loftin and tailback Marvin Houston leading the way for the Wildcats. Loftin threw for three scores, while Houston was on the receiving end of two.

The first half of play was strictly a defensive struggle.

The Bears got on the board first when the snap from center sailed over punter David McIvor's head and into the end zone. McIvor smartly tipped the ball out of the end zone preventing a Bear player from pouncing on it for a touchdown. Southwest led 2-0 on the basis of the safety.

On the first play of the second period the Wildcats got on the board with a 34-yard field goal by Kenneth Seymour. The field goal was set up when John Henry separated the Bear quarterback from the ball and Richard Poole recovered at the Bear 42. Seymour kicked the go-ahead points and the 'Cats led 3-2.

Later Henry recovered a fumble at the Bear 26 late in the half. A 24-yard pass from Loftin to Houston put the ball on the 2-yard line. But on the next play, Houston was met at the goal line and fumbled into the end zone and the Bears got the ball at the 20.

The half ended 3-2.

With 8:25 remaining in the third quarter the Wildcats increased their lead to 9-2 when Loftin hit Houston over the middle with a short pass and the freshman scampered 25 yards into the end zone.

Moments into the fourth quarter, Houston scored on a 43-yard pass from Loftin. Houston took the short pass, broke a few tackles and motored into the end zone. Kenneth Seymour was true with the point after touchdown (PAT) for a 16-2 Wildcat lead.

The Wildcats' final score was set up by a John Linden fumble recovery at the Bear 20-yard line. Three plays later Loftin passed 12 yards to Zac Morris for the TD. Seymour added the PAT for the final count, 23-2.

Chris Jones led the 'Cats in rushing with 76 yards on 11 carries, while Ricky Meyers gained 35 yards on 16 carries.

Loftin was 12 of 24 in the passing department for 177 yards. Houston caught five passes for 98 yards, while Morris caught three passes for 53 yards.

The Wildcats improved their record to 4-1, while the Bears fell to 5-4. It was the 46th meeting between the two teams with the 'Cats holding the edge 35-33. Pearl River won the first 20 games of the series.

The Wildcats have been on a roller coaster ride all season long. The 'Cats have had some good games, some bad games and some so-so games.

It is Thursday night at Scooba the Wildcats will take on the East Mississippian Lions to close out the '84 year. There are no division or state crowns resting on the outcome, however, the River's pride and reputation are definitely on the line.

After beating Southwest 23-2 last Saturday in Poplarville, the Wildcats can now post a winning season if they beat East Mississippian on the road. The 'Cats record stands at 4-1 and after nine games it can't get any more even for the 'Cats.

Having a winning season is very important for the Wildcats. It is important for the football program and it's important for the Wildcat winning tradition. A tradition which has suffered during the past few years.

Last year the Wildcats posted a 4-5-1 record; only the third losing season since 1945. J.C. Arban, the 'Cats head coach since 1975, had another 4-5-1 mark back in '78. Legendary Dobie Holden posted an 0-10 mark in 1966.

A losing record at Pearl River College is, as the old saying goes, 'scarce as hen's teeth'. Back to back losing seasons? Well, that's something that has happened only once—back during the war years.

In 1942, while playing a lot of high school players, the Wildcats had a 0-4 mark before the season was scrapped. In 1943 no football was played, however things started back up in '44 when the 'Cats were 2-5-1. The next year PRC was 1-6.

"The season boils down to one game," said Arban. "We're good enough to have a winning season. We deserve a winning season."

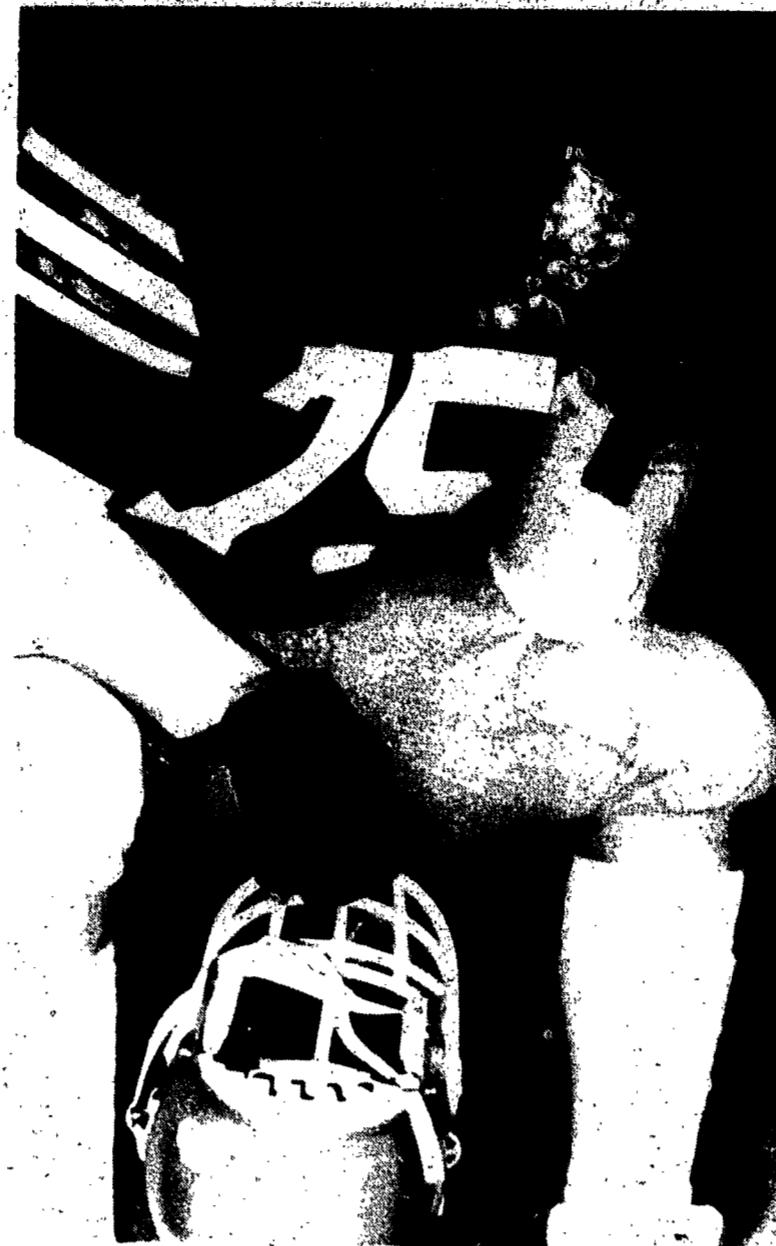

East Mississippian will have a lot to say about just how deserving the 'Cats really are when they meet Thursday. The Lions are 5-4 for the year, after losing their first three games. In fact, the Lions have a four-game winning streak going and have earned at least a tie for first place in the north division.

"They are a good football team," Arban said. "They have improved every week and playing on Thursday up there will be to their advantage."

The Lions lost to C o-Lin, Jones and Northwest before taking their first win against Itawam ba. Hinds then handed the Scooba bunch a 24-20 setback. That was five games ago and Coahoma, Northwest, Mississippi Delta and Holmes have all fallen victims since then.

Last year the Lions handed the Wildcats a season opening 11-8 loss. Two years ago when the 'Cats played up there it was PRC squeaking by 13-10. Through the years the Wildcats have won 22 games from the Lions, while losing only eight. Two games have ended in a tie.

Arban said three defensive starters may miss the game. Tackle Charles Swain, end Richard Poole and back Mike Clemons sustained injuries in the southwest game and will probably not see action.

UNITED STATES SPORTS ACADEMY Fun & Fitness

STRENGTH TRAINING FOR WOMEN ISSUES AND ANSWERS

Current investigations indicate that women can participate in any sport they wish, and compete favorably with males in sports where size and strength are not a factor.

It is the intent of this article to answer some of the common questions females have pertaining to weight training.

1. Can females develop strength as fast as men?

Although the absolute strength of females is about two-thirds that of the male, the quality of the muscle is relatively the same. Thus, the female potential for muscular strength is relative to her body size and proportion of muscle mass to the total body size.

2. Does strength training for females cause excessive muscular bulk and/or produce masculinizing effects?

No. Any female athlete who goes on a strict diet and poses under special lighting will appear much the same as a bodybuilder. The only thing that hides muscular definition is FAT! Women and men have basically the same musculoskeletal structure, so female bodybuilders appear like their male counterparts, only smaller.

Even though muscular strength increases, strength training has little effect on gains of muscular bulk in the female. The female lacks large amounts of a hormone called testosterone which produces the large muscles and masculine features.

Therefore, females can expect gains in muscular strength and a decrease in total body fat with little gain in muscular size.

3. What are some benefits women can expect from strength training?

The benefits are many, so the following list is provided for simplicity: A decrease in body fat, increased strength; naturally, increased flexibility, a positive outlook on oneself, and healthy self-respect.

4. Will strength training slow down a female, and make her less flexible?

Again, no. If a sound and rational program is followed, the female can expect increased speed and flexibility.

LEADING RUSHER

Despite injuring an ankle in last Saturday's 13-7 loss to Southwestern Louisiana, tailback Vincent Alexander continued to lead the Golden Eagles in rushing with 96 carries for 531 yards and three touchdowns.

Against USL, the Covington, La. sophomore carried the ball only four times for 39 yards prior to injury.

Senior tailback Sam Denarnette of Selma, Ala. is second in rushing on the team with 93 carries for 457 yards and one TD, while quarterback Robert Ducksworth of Biloxi, who missed the game against Southwestern Louisiana with a severe high bruise, is third with 128 carries for 437 yards and three TDs.

Alexander also has the best yards per carry average among the regulars, averaging 5.6 yards every time he runs the ball, while sophomore fullback Randolph Brown of Natchez, Miss. is second with a 5.0 average.

FRESHMAN ACTION

With starting quarterback Robert Ducksworth sidelined with an injury and backup Timmy Byrd rejoining a knee early in the game, red-shirt freshman Tommy Compton saw the most extensive action of his brief career last Saturday night against Southwestern Louisiana.

Family

BY ANGELA AND FORD BOTHWELL

Most campers don't do much reading in the summer, when they're constantly on the go, but the approach of fall is a good time to catch up. Here are some new books you may be interested in:

"The Complete Walker III" by Colin Fletcher (Alfred A. Knopf, 201 E. 50th St., NY 10028, $11.95) is an enlarged and updated edition of "the backpacker's bible," which gives good tips to day hikers, as well. Offered for the first time in paperback, there is advice and opinion in this how-to manual.

"Botany in the Field" by Jane Scott (Prentice-Hall, Englewood Cliffs, NJ 07632, $8.95) will give campers an appreciation of the plant kingdom, including the relationship between plants and their habitats. The author studies characteristics of the various plant communities — deciduous woods, open fields, wetlands, barrens, dunes, etc.

"Kayak Touring" by William Sanders (Stackpole Books, Box 1831, Harrisburg, PA 17105, $12.95 plus 63 cents shipping) will help the reader get the most out of a variety of kayaking experiences. Sections are devoted to open water, streams, whitewater and ocean.

"The Complete Book of American Fish and Wildlife Cookery" by Elizabeth Bjornskov (Alfred A. Knopf, $18.95) contains more than 680 recipes, plus information on catching, preparing and cooking species native to North American waters. There are instructions on broiling, grilling, baking, barbecuing, deep frying, sauteing, poaching, steaming, etc.

"The Seaside Naturalist" by Deborah Coulombe (Prentice-Hall, $12.95) blends a marine biology text with a field guide, format in a study of seashore nature. Time spent on the beaches around the inlets and in the back bays should take on new meaning with this reference book.

"How to Collect North American Indian Artifacts" by Robert F. Brand ($11.95 plus $1.50 handling from Robert F. Brand, 1029 Lake Lane, Pennsauken, PA 08107) is a self-published first book emphasizing the history of Indian artifacts and how to determine what is authentic and what is not.

"Suburban Wildlife" by Richard Headstrom (Prentice-Hall, $8.95) explains how wildlife has adapted to human intrusions in city and suburb. The creatures range from squirrels and raccoons to small worms and spiders.

The University of Southern Mississippi has planned a full schedule of homecoming events for this weekend.

In addition to student decorations, the campus will host a myriad of activities that will include a golf tournament; run/walk; class reunions; the forming of an alumni band; a USM Alumni Association Board of Directors meeting; an awards/recognition/business meeting; and presentation of the 1984 homecoming court.

Campus organizations will compete for alumni awards in the areas of theme, beauty and originality in their interpretation of the homecoming theme.

Alumni will join members of the USM golf team for an annual golf tournament at noon Friday.

The USM Foundation Board of Directors will hold its annual homecoming dinner and business meeting Friday after noon and evening.

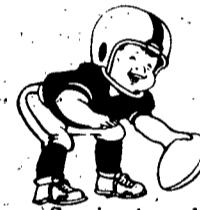

The first homecoming run/walk will begin at 8:03 a.m. Saturday with a 5,000-meter (3.1 miles) running event and two-mile walk to help support USM mascot Nugget and the "Live Golden Eagle" project.

The 1983-84 executive committee will join past presidents of the Alumni Association for a 9 a.m. brunch in the J.B. George Commons on the USM campus.

Alumni and friends of the university will be recognized with a variety of certificates and awards during the 10:30 a.m. Awards/Recognition/Business session in Bennett Auditorium. New officers of the Alumni Association also will be elected.

Elevated to the presidency of the Alumni Association this year will be Krandall Howell of McComb. He was elected last year to serve a three-year term as president.

Robert D. Ingram of McComb will be named "Outstanding Alumnus/Alumna." Paul Rayburn of Hattiesburg will receive the "Friend of Southern Award" and D.C. Leech of Hattiesburg will receive the "Meritorious Service Award."

Continuous Service Awards will be given to Moran M. Pope Jr. and former USM football Coach P.W. Underwood of Hattiesburg, Doris J. Givens of Lufkin, Mr. and Mrs. Velton Knight of Baton Rouge, La., and Al Gordy of Magee.

Outstanding Service Awards will be presented to Dr. Clyde N. Ginn and Bonnie Purvis Warren of Hattiesburg, Brenda DiFatta of Meridian, Claude E. Lee of Flowood, Larry D. Lawrence of Brandon, Nolan Ladner of Slidell, La., and Tommy Gollott of Biloxi.

Registration and open house at the Alumni House will begin at 8:30 a.m. and end at 4 p.m. Saturday. A full schedule of events will be available at registration. The homecoming gala featuring fun, food, fellowship and entertainment will be held on the front lawn of the Alumni House from noon to 4 p.m. USM arts and crafts will be displayed for sale.

Reunions of the Classes of '14, '24, '34, '44, '54, '64 and '74, and of former members of the "Pride" and Dixie Darlings will be held on the back lawn of the Alumni House. The classes will gather at 2 p.m. and the Pride and Darlings at 2:30 p.m.

Pregame festivities featuring the homecoming court and winners of the student decorations contest will begin at 4:30 p.m. in M.M. Roberts Stadium.

The 1984 homecoming court includes Queen Angela Fokakis of Hattiesburg, Student Body Maid Joanie Green of McComb, Graduate Maid Cheryl Loper of Biloxi, Senior Maid Missy Ezelle of Hattiesburg, Junior Maid Louise Porter of Jackson, Sophomore Maid Nan Sumrall of Hattiesburg, and Freshman Maid Mary Alice Jordan of Laurel.

Those attending the homecoming game will be given a chance to help support Nugget, USM's live Golden Eagle mascot when Air Force and Army ROTC cadets "pass the hat" during the game. Funds are needed to properly care for the eagle, which was placed in the custody of the university by the U.S. Department of the Interior. The "Live Golden Eagle" project also provides partial scholarships for two student trainers who assume responsibility for the bird.

A new Pride of Mississippi Alumni

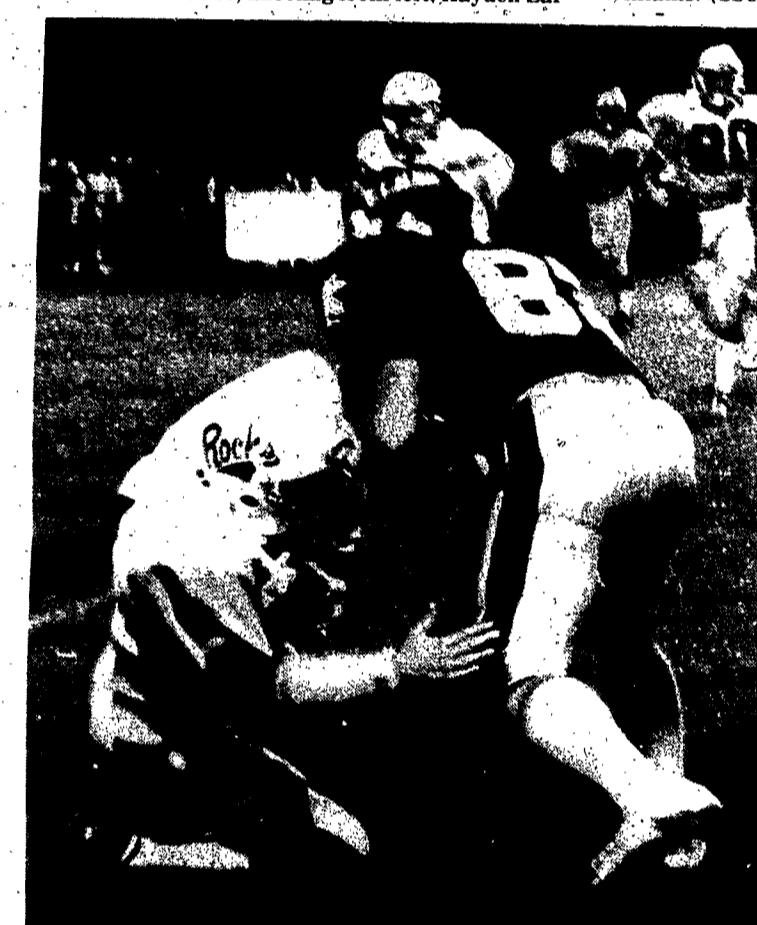

Band will perform during halftime of the game. This reunion of former USM band members also will mark the beginning of a new tradition.

The homecoming bout with Northwestern Louisiana will begin at 5 p.m. in M.M. Roberts Stadium on the USM campus.

Hancock driver license station hours reported

The Mississippi Highway Patrol reports special hours for operation of its local driver license station are between 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Tuesdays at the City-County Library on US-90, Bay St. Louis.

Driver license testing stations are established around the state based on the volume of transactions in each geographical area. The stations issue new or renewal licenses.

Hours of operation for each station usually allow citizens to take care of their driver licensing needs before or after normal working hours in each community.

No driving test will be given when the streets are wet or slippery, or after dark.

Farm-raised catfish prices up, appear steady for 1984

Prices for farm-raised catfish are averaging about 10 cents a pound higher than last year and tight supplies are expected to keep upward pressure on prices for the rest of 1984.

While catfish supplies may increase later this year, improving demand is expected to offset the higher supplies, said Mark Keenum, a marketing specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Prices to catfish farmers are averaging about 75 cents a pound—10 cents higher than in 1983—and are expected to remain near that level for most of 1984.

"There may be a slight drop in catfish prices this fall," Keenum said. "The demand for catfish usually slackens in the fall."

Farm-raised catfish producers in Mississippi produced 140 million pounds of catfish in 1983. Production in 1984 is projected at about 160 million pounds. Mississippi continues to lead the nation in catfish production with more than 65,000 acres in catfish ponds.

Keenum said the tight catfish supplies are the result of farmers not expanding production as in the past and an ever-increasing demand for catfish.

The catfish industry in the state expanded at a slower pace in 1983, with acreage increasing by 8 percent following a 10 percent increase in 1982 and 38 percent in 1981.

"Demand for farm-raised catfish is improving as the industry continues to look for new ways to market its product," Keenum said.

Currently, catfish producers look to three major channels to market catfish: grocery store outlets, food service distributors and catfish specialty restaurants.

The industry is leaning more toward frozen products, particularly fillets and pre-breaded forms of catfish.

Too, processors believe that fast-food restaurants offer great potential for improving farm-raised catfish sales.

Outreach program to open this month

Biloxi Regional Outreach, the Mississippi Gulf Coast's first free-standing hospital dedicated exclusively for treatment of adult alcohol and drug abuse patients, will open in early November when renovation is completed on the 30-bed "Old Biloxi Hospital" building at 410 East Beach Blvd.

The facility is designed to accommodate Outreach's unique treatment program, said Jim Soriano, program director. He said Outreach patients will have the advantage of a home-like atmosphere but are exposed only to other patients whose problems are similar.

"We will maintain a non-clinical environment," he said, "with rooms that are more like luxury hotel rooms than hospital rooms." The facility will have a swimming pool and recreation rooms, in-room private baths, naturally lighted verandas and a garden-like patient dining room.

"Our hospital is designed with facilities to provide all the medical help a patient may need without the atmosphere of a traditional hospital," Soriano said. "The building is being renovated to take full advantage of its beachfront location for the benefit of our treatment program."

Outreach plans to make full use of the historic old Biloxi Hospital, he said. The high ceilings of the entrance foyer are being retained, as are all of the original window casings. The interior design is based on the beach location, utilizing the numerous windows, a wide variety of plants and bamboo-like furnishings.

Soriano said the unique facet of the Outreach treatment program is its emphasis on the whole person. "We know medical and psychological help may be needed by the substance abuser, but we also know that unless equal attention is given to the emotional and spiritual person, real recovery can not take place."

He said the hospital is designed and staffed to allow equal emphasis on the physical, mental, physical and spiritual person.

Renovation of the 25,000-square-foot building is being achieved through more than $1.5 million in expenditures.

REMODELING—The building previously housing the old Biloxi Hospital has been remodeled to provide care for adult drug addicts and alcoholics. Most of the outer appearance of the building will remain unchanged.

Legion encouraging voter turnout

Heavy voter turnout in the 1984 general election Nov. 6 is the goal of nationwide "Get Out The Vote" campaign, according to Agnes Wilkerson, president of American Legion Clement R. Bontemps Auxiliary Unit 139.

Emphasizing the obligation of every citizen to vote, Miss Wilkerson noted that several turning points in history were decided by the margin of a single vote.

"Adolph Hitler was elected head of the Nazi Party in 1933 by a single vote," she said.

"And one vote in 1776 determined that Americans would speak English rather than German."

"There are others, of course," she continued, "but I think those examples illustrate the importance of exercising a basic right that has been given to each of us as a public trust."

Americanism Chairman Lou Wilkerson offered the services of Unit 139 in assisting the general public with general election information.

The unit is furnishing transportation to and from the polls for those who need it, a service open to all citizens, not just members.

"Anyone needing a ride should call the American Legion Home at 467-9000 on election day and there will be ladies on duty all day to pick you up and take you home," she added.

Nuclear waste disposal is continuing problem

By Yearn H. Choi, Ph.D.
Social Science Dept.
Jackson State University

The following article is the result of a grant to the Mississippi Press Association by the Mississippi Committee for the Humanities. The opinions expressed are those of the author and not necessarily those of either organization.

Mississippians' fear of radioactive waste is enormous. The animosity toward radioactive waste is much more fierce than it is toward chemical waste, solid waste or even having a prison in one's backyard.

We fear our imperfect control of radioactive waste and governmental and scientific efforts to manage radioactive waste have not been adequate.

Radioactive waste has been generated since the Manhattan Project in 1943.

In the 41 years since the project ushered the world into the nuclear age, the growing use of nuclear energy and products and reliance on nuclear defense have nearly outstripped man's ability to contain the vast amounts of radioactive waste that have been generated.

The National Nuclear Waste Policy Act was enacted by the Congress in December, 1982. Even before the Act was passed, the Mississippi sites at Richton and Cypress had emerged as the most acceptable sites, according to Department of Energy officials.

Citizens in Perry County organized the Perry County Citizens Against Nuclear Disposal. Joe and Carolyn Blackman, key officials of the organization, own a house and farm located on top of the Richton salt dome.

"A salt dome is ill suited," they say. "Salt is a heat conductor. Many scientists do not believe that a salt dome is the best geological media."

"Fifty percent of Mississippi's population lives within the radius of 100 miles of the proposed site. Now the Department of Energy demands us to accept the site. We don't have a choice. Why not? This is a democratic nation. We should make our input."

Once we accept nuclear power and products, we should prepare ourselves for the kind of vigilance needed to ensure the proper and safe operation of our nuclear energy, power and waste system. This is a significant commitment.

In 1971 Alvin Weinberg, director of Oak Ridge National Laboratory, coined the term 'Faustian bargain with society.'

He said in the Rutherford Centennial lecture delivered at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, "The price that we demand of society for this magical energy is both a vigilance and longevity of our social institutions but we are not yet ready to accept the Faustian responsibility."

Citizens need education. Nuclear physicists should explain nuclear waste disposal methods to the public in plain language. Energy policy-makers should explain the National Waste Policy Act and its implication to Mississippi.

Some states should accept the responsibility to dispose of nuclear wastes generated from the nation's nuclear defense, power and medicine if their sites are the most acceptable sites.

Mississippi is not the state which generates the most waste. Should Mississippi be responsible for the waste? Ecological brushfire-fighting is outdated.

Mississippi needs a series of public forums to educate the public as to the need or lack of need for nuclear power and products, and the safety of the burial technology.

Democracy in this post-industrial society requires citizens' basic understanding of nuclear science and technology, and requires ethical and political values.

Since 1937, when the Hancock County jail was built, our population has more than doubled. Hancock County is the fastest growing county on the Gulf Coast with a predicted population growth of 88% by the year 2000.

Institutions must grow to meet the needs of a growing community, and a 1937 jail doesn't meet the needs of 1984. The need is NOW!

REAL VIEWS ON REAL ESTATE

HOME OWNERSHIP OFFERS MANY BENEFITS

Question: I have read where the percentage of Americans owning their own home has actually declined in recent years. Is this true and if so, what has happened? P.C., Batesville

Answer: Dear P.C.: The fact that home ownership is a highly valued objective has been repeatedly borne out in public opinion polls.

Recent surveys show that home ownership is highly prized. Eighty-four percent of Americans rank home ownership first as representative of the "good life."

This ranking is even higher than a happy marriage and children.

Unfortunately, home ownership in America has been on the decline since 1980. Between 1980 and the end of 1982, the home ownership rate dropped a full percentage point.

This decrease was the first time such a drop had occurred since the Depression of the 1930s.

Currently, less than 65 percent of the householders in America own their own homes.

This one percentage point decrease registered during these two years wiped away more than half of the gain in home ownership registered during the entire decade of the 1970s.

It is imperative that this trend be reversed. Home ownership is much more than a personal economic commodity and as such should be treated very carefully.

The external benefits of home ownership "spill over" to society so that other home owners and even renters gain as more people own their own homes.

Many people are of the opinion that the encouragement of home ownership should be a top public objective and should have a very high priority in terms of public policy.

For answers to questions, write Dr. Dennis Tosh, P.O. Box 295, University, Miss. 38677.

EXPENDITURES UP

Question: With rising land costs and increases in interest rates, I am assuming that more and more homeowners are spending money on home improvements rather than purchasing another home. Is this correct? B.D., Calhoun City

Answer: Dear B.D.: Yes, you are correct. Property owners protect their investment and preserve housing quality through maintenance, repair, and improvements to their existing homes rather than purchasing another residence.

Owners of single-family residences allocate a larger share of their spendable funds to changing their existing homes to fit changes in family needs and lifestyles, while the owners of multifamily residences such as apartment complexes spend relatively more of their funds on maintenance and repair.

In total, these activities support a sizeable amount of the building contracts undertaken by small independent businesses.

Total expenditures for upkeep and improvement of residential properties totaled over $49 billion in 1983.

This was an increase of over nine percent from the previous year.

Of this total expenditure, $18 billion was spent on maintenance and repair, $20 billion on alterations and additions and $11 billion on major replacements.

The greatest relative increase last year was in the major replacement category, with expenditures some 12 percent higher than in the previous year.

By comparison, expenditures on additions and alterations, as well as for maintenance and repair, rose approximately eight percent.

Over half of the money spent by owners of single-family homes went for alterations and repairs while only 20 percent of the money spent on multifamily units was in this category.

Conversely, a higher proportion of the money spent on multifamily units was devoted to maintenance and repair.

For answers to questions, write Dr. Dennis Tosh, P.O. Box 295, University, Miss. 38677.

VA Briefs

Q—Is there any treatment available from VA for alcoholism?

A—Yes, the VA has a program for the treatment of veterans for alcoholism and other drug dependence. Contact the nearest VA medical center or outpatient clinic for treatment.

Q—Can active duty service personnel apply for a VA guaranteed home loan?

A—Yes, active duty personnel are eligible after serving a period of more than 180 days on active duty status. VA Form 26-1620 must be completed and submitted to the VA regional office with a statement of service signed by their commanding officer. The VA will then issue a Certificate of Eligibility.

Q—I sold my home purchased by using my VA loan guaranty benefit to a non-veteran. The current owner is selling the home to a veteran. Can my VA loan guaranty entitlement be restored?

A—Yes, a recent change in the law allows restoration of VA loan guaranty entitlement when the property is sold by the veteran purchaser to a non-veteran and subsequently resold to an eligible veteran if the new veteran purchaser substitutes his/her entitlement.

Q—Can a World War I veteran receive outpatient treatment at a VA medical facility?

A—Yes. Any veteran with a service-connected disability of 50 percent or more may be provided with necessary prosthetic appliances for any medical condition.

Q—I received a Certificate of Eligibility for a VA home loan guaranty several years ago but never had the opportunity to use it. Have my benefits expired?

A—Loan guaranty entitlement is not subject to an expiration date.

Q—I am a married veteran receiving education benefits. We have just had our first child and are awaiting receipt of the birth certificate. Will my award be adjusted retroactively?

A—Your award will be increased retroactively if the claim is received within one year of the child's birth. If you submit the birth certificate more than one year after the child is born, the award will be increased effective the first day of the month following the receipt of the claim.

Q—My grandfather was a patient in a VA nursing home. He recently passed away and we are applying for burial benefits. Can we claim transportation expenses?

A—Transportation costs of remains are authorized when the veteran dies in a VA medical facility.

SUBOCCIPITAL HEADACHES

How many useless remedies are taken for this condition is anyone's guess. There is one type of headache usually starts at the base of the head, by the neck, and spreads to the sides and top of the head. People subject to this condition have a developing stiffness in the neck and spine. Usually, the headaches become more frequent and intensity increases as the spine undergoes further adverse changes! Working in static postures, such as long hours at a desk or typing, serve to aggravate this problem. Competent Chiropractic care will clear up the majority of these problems.

ASCS Report

COMMITTEE NOMINEES

Farmers are reminded that the county ASCS office is now receiving nominations for ASCS Community Committee Election candidates. Gennin encouraged farmers to use this opportunity to nominate their farm neighbors as candidates in the ASC Committee Election.

Gennin said the ASC Committee provides the important service of administering government farm programs in the local community. The election will be conducted by mail from Nov. 23 to Dec. 3. Eligible farm voters will be provided with instructions for filling out the secret ballot and returning it to the county ASCS office.

Most resident farmers are eligible to hold office as ASC committee members. If a farmer would like detailed information concerning eligibility requirements, he or she should contact either a present committee member or the county ASCS office.

In filling out petition, farmers should be careful to include the name of only one nominee, the signatures of at least three eligible ASC voters who support the nominee, and certification that the nominee is willing to serve if elected. Petitions must contain this information to be accepted. The completed petition should be dated and mailed or hand-delivered to the county ASCS office no later than Oct. 29.

ASC Committee elections are open to all eligible ASC voters without regard to race, color, religion, sex, or national origin. Gennin explained that any concerned farmer with an interest in service to fellow producers would be an asset to the ASC committee. For this reason, farmers are urged to petition for the farmers of their choice.

The individual producer will benefit in the long run from a responsible, concerned team.

Pearl River County has five ASC communities and Hancock County has three ASC communities. The names of these communities are: Pearl River—A, B, C, D and E; Hancock—F, G and H.

County Agent's Notes

By Lee Taylor

The third annual Southeast Mississippi Forestry Field Day will be Nov. 7, at Lake Toc-O-Lean, near Wiggins.

About 25 farmers, forest industry personnel, farm leaders, agriculture agency personnel and others from Hancock County are expected to attend.

County Agent Lee Taylor said this year's meeting theme is "Protecting Your Forest Investment."

"After registration, those attending will take part in a forest tour where presentations will be given on wildfire protection, forest insect problems, the new Trespass Law, timber sales and forest work contract supervision," Taylor said.

The keynote address will be given by Hugh Arant, president of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation.

"Forestry is an important industry in the county, occupying about 200,000 acres," Taylor continued. "Value of the industry is about $3.5 million annually."

Farmers can benefit by participating in the field day, he said.

"Much of the timber in the county is not producing at full capacity," he said. "Too, many of our growers don't understand how to properly establish the value of timber when it's ready for market."

Taylor urged all persons interested in promoting and improving the forest industry to attend the annual one-day event. Other than travel costs, the only expenses will be a $3 meal charge.

"For more information on this event, call me at 467-5456," Taylor concluded.

Heart Answers

WHAT IS A PACEMAKER?

The heart has a natural pacemaker that consists of a small mass of specialized cells producing electrical impulses that cause the heart to beat. An artificial pacemaker is an electrical device that can substitute for a defective natural pacemaker and control the heart's beat by a series of rhythmic electrical discharges. An artificial pacemaker is a small battery-powered unit usually implanted under the skin. It sends electrical impulses through tiny wires to the heart to control the heart's rate and rhythm of contraction. Contact your local American Heart Association for more information.

State Superintendent of Education Richard Boyd reports that Mississippi has received a federal grant of $12,850,071 for Fiscal Year 1985 under Part B of the Education of All Handicapped Children Act.

In making the announcement, Dr. Boyd commended Mississippi schools on their continuously increasing services to handicapped children. Some of these children have mild disabilities affecting specific areas of their learning and are in regular classes most of each day; others have more serious handicaps requiring their education in self-contained classes.

All handicapped students are identified and pulled from regular classrooms to receive specialized services through programs of educational placement and individualized instruction.

Mississippi public schools provided education for 80,480 handicapped students in 1983-84. The amount of money will be announced during the April 10, 1985 meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Handicapped children this year, Moore noted.

To meet the needs of handicapped students during the 1983-84 school year, Mississippi spent $57,022,654 for teachers' salaries, $11,995 for the Minimum Foundation Program. Dr. Boyd reported. Local school districts added varying sums in addition to what was received from the state.

The Part B, EIV Incentive for All Handicapped Children in Act grant will be spent for continuing Child Find, evaluation of students, special teaching materials, supervision and other supportive activities. Mississippi is providing every handicapped child a free education by the end of the decade, Dr. Boyd said.

USM grants to support education projects

Two grants totaling $244,000 have been received at the University of Southern Mississippi to support projects encouraging the use of occupant restraints and educating the public on alcohol awareness.

Funded by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, the grants are administered through the Governor's Highway Safety Program, according to Dr. S. Eugene Barnes, vice president for research and extended services at USM.

Barnes said this year marks the fourth year the occupant restraint project has been funded. He said a large part of the project involves providing infant restraint or child safety seats to hospitals, clinics or health departments which, in turn, loan them to parents.

"Through that," Barnes pointed out, "we hope parents will be impressed with the need for a restraint and will purchase one. The loaner program also gives us the opportunity to make the public aware of the new restraint law."

The infant restraint law, passed by the Legislature in 1983, states that all children under two years of age must be in federally approved safety seats in an automobile or the driver is subject to a fine.

The project provides the money for personnel to be hired to work with the public schools, businesses, industries and other organizations and associations to educate their employees about the benefits of using occupant restraints, Barnes explained.

"Working with young children," he stated, "we hope the effect will result in children encouraging their parents to use seat belts."

The project also will support research into the attitudes of the public toward the use of occupant restraints. "There is already a ton of misinformation about them," Barnes said.

"Our goal is to reduce the number of infant injuries or deaths on the highways. The new law has already resulted in a drop in infant fatalities. During the first six months of 1983, there were five fatalities involving children under two years of age. This year, during the same time period, the deaths were decreased to two. There has been an 11 percent decrease in major injuries to children during the first six months of this year as compared to last year," he continued.

"We spend thousands of dollars to immunize our children against diphtheria, tetanus and pneumonia each year. We're looking at this money spent on ensuring children are protected in restraint seats as being just as justifiably spent," he added.

Barnes said the principle objective of the alcohol awareness project is to reduce the number of DUI (driving under the influence) offenses in the state. The work involves the alcohol-education of all age groups to the new Implied Consent Law, which reduced the blood alcohol level constituting DUI to .10 percent from .15.

"There is widespread misunderstanding of drinking and blood alcohol levels—in other words, an ignorance of what the law says, means and how that translates or relates to drinking behavior," he pointed out.

"A large amount of the activity of the project involves making people aware of the new law and what it means. Most people don't realize that the blood alcohol level depends largely upon a person's body weight," he noted.

"This education will help the public regulate its drinking and thus help them make better decisions about driving," Barnes said.

Working with the justice court system is a part of the project also, in an effort to inform judges and clerks about details of the law. Law enforcement officials and mental health agencies will be looked to for the deterrence of DUI and repeat DUI offenses.

Barnes explained, "We are also very actively working with citizen groups such as MADD (Mothers against Drunk Driving) and SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) to deter first-time and repeat offenders.

"We are trying to establish a comprehensive alcohol countermeasure program with educational facilities, law enforcement officials and agencies, mental health agencies and citizens' groups all combining their interests and efforts," he said.

Implementing the Governor's Task Force recommendations is another goal. This would involve alcohol education as a part of the curriculum in public schools or the pre-sentence evaluation of DUI offenders so that people who are problem drinkers can be counseled and those without problems can simply attend MASEP.
